

Forest Heritage Days (FHD) is an annual community event in Greenville, Maine that honors the state's most historic industry - the forest products industry. Forestry has been a staple in Maine's 17.6 million acres of forestland for generations and provides an annual economic impact of $8-$10 billion, employs 1 in 20 Mainers and contributes 28.9% of all state exports.

Each year since 1991, families and community members gather to celebrate this vibrant industry with four days of forestry fun & education. Events include old-time woodsmen demonstrations from the Colby College woodsmen team, guided working forest bus tour, guest presenters and entertainers, craft fair, Lumberman's Museum, Children's Miracle Network raffle, children's activities, forestry exhibits, food and the signature Game of Logging competition plus many other events throughout the long weekend.
